

Experiencing the Oneness A Free Healing Hour

The Healing Hour is a 1 hour program in which Rosenilyne Hopson leads the group in bringing forth Divine energy (chi) through chanting.

Here's what's available for you out of your participation in the Healing Hour:

- Relaxing your mind and body
- Connecting to the divine within yourself and others
- Individual body/energy work to support the integration of the powerful, healing chi

Rosenilyne Hopson is Director of Music for the Stream. A non-profit educational and spiritual organization, The Stream is dedicated to expanding human consciousness on the planet and supporting humankind to find its place in the oneness.

Each of the team members supporting this event have been on their own journeys to awaken their abilities to be conduits for divine energy. They have uncovered their unique expression of that energy and the Healing Hour is their opportunity to share these blessings with a community of like minded individuals.
